General Terms and Conditions

In so far as the content of this online application and the following provisions make reference to the male gender, this should be interpreted as constituting both the male and female gender equally.

1. Exclusion of liability
   The content of this online application, in particular information about the nitrogen nutrition status of crops and fertilizer recommendations, shall be non-binding. Use of this online application and/or the retrieval of information or recommendations shall not establish any separate contractual relationship between the user and Borealis L.A.T.

   Borealis L.A.T has made every reasonable effort in order to ensure that the content of this online application is appropriate, authentic, complete and correct at the time of publication. However, in this regard, Borealis L.A.T neither grants any warranty nor assumes any other form of liability whatsoever, and specifically also not in respect of any damage arising from or in connection with the use of the content, information and recommendations published in this online application. An analogous exclusion of liability in favour of Borealis L.A.T shall also apply with regard to the operation and availability of this online application. Thus, the user shall be solely responsible in the context of making all and any decisions using or based on content, information or recommendations contained in this online application.

   Borealis L.A.T reserves the right to make amendments or additions in respect of the content, information and recommendations provided in the online application as well as to implement any suspension of operations of this online application without prior notice.

2. Copyright
   Unless the contrary is expressly stated in this online application, copyright in respect of this online application and all content, data and/or documents made available and used via the said application shall be held exclusively by Borealis L.A.T. Borealis L.A.T grants the user neither a right of use nor any other right whatsoever with regard to its associated rights (in particular intellectual property rights, copyright, etc.).

   The user of this online application may, however, use this content, data and/or documents – whereby this shall be the solely permitted use – for his own personal informational use. Any other use of the said content, data and/or documents (e.g. storage in databases, reproduction, incorporation of individual pages of this online application in other online applications, websites, frames etc. and any form of commercial use) as well as any communication to third parties – including in part or in revised form – is strictly prohibited without the prior consent of Borealis L.A.T.
The use of identifiers of Borealis L.A.T (e.g. corporate name, trademarks, logos, etc.) presented in this online application is strictly prohibited, irrespective of whether a symbol indicating an intellectual property right is present. The above provisions shall apply by way of analogy also to online applications/software and the respective content thereof used directly or indirectly by this online application of Borealis L.A.T.

3. Links to online applications of third parties/Exclusion of liability
With regard to access to online applications/software of third parties in respect of which visiting/use is enabled, for example via hyperlinks, within this online application of Borealis L.A.T, exclusively the rights and regulations of such third-party providers shall apply with regard to the online applications/software of the latter. The user hereby accepts this and shall comply with the said regulations of the third-party provider. Borealis L.A.T hereby excludes all and any responsibility and liability with regard to online applications/software of third parties and the content thereof linked with this online application.

4. Data use and consent of user
By using this online application of Borealis L.A.T, the user shall provide Borealis L.A.T with personal information or information relating to him and, by submitting such information within this online application or by way of his express consent, declares himself to be in agreement to the effect that such information – unless consent is expressly revoked on the part of the user – shall not be subject to confidentiality and may be used by Borealis L.A.T free of charge in such manner as stated in the Privacy Notice of this online application. Borealis L.A.T shall lawfully collect and process such information as is to be qualified as personal data of the user in line with the relevant statutory data-protection regulations (e.g. Austrian Data Protection Act [Datenschutzgesetz], the EU General Data Protection Regulation), and pass the same on to third parties in accordance with such data-protection regulations.
